Prof. E. C. Smyth and Pres. Franklin Carter will make addresses at the Ballville church in the morning, and there will be after dinner speeches and a reception in the evening.

Dr. Scott's buggy was smashed almost beyond repair Tuesday morning, as the result of a collision with one of D. F. Holt's ice carts. The accident happened on School Street in front of the Butterfield residence, where Dr. Scott had left his team standing. As the ice cart was passing one of the forward wheels became locked into a rear wheel of the buggy which was overturned and almost ruined before the driver of the ice cart was aware of the collision. Dr. Scott's horse was badly frightened by the upsetting of the buggy to which he was attached, but the animal was quieted before he ran away. The bit was broken in his mouth and the harness was injured considerably. The wrecked buggy was taken to Higgins' stable.

Saunders and Crowley, battery for the Andover Social club nine, played with the Lawrence lawyers at Haverhill, Wednesday. Saunders struck out seven of Haverhill's legal lights.

The eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fraize of Morton Street, died Sunday morning of diphtheria and was buried in the afternoon.

Labor Day was one of the pleasantest days of the season. There was no public demonstration in Andover. Many citizens witnessed the parade of the Central Labor Union of Lawrence, and Glen Forest and the Pines were well patronized by Andover people.

The Misses Lord of Malden have been stopping at the residence of George T. Abbott, Elm Street.

A number of members of Lincoln Lodge, A. O. U. W., attended the Merrimac Valley outing at Salisbury beach, Saturday.

J. M. Bean, Frank E. Gleason, C. A. Booth, M. V. Gleason, O. Chasman and Charles L. White accompanied Bethany commandery, Knights Templars on their recent trip to Fabyass, N. H.

James P. Butterfield was thrown from his carriage Tuesday and badly shaken. The accident happened just as Mr. Butterfield was driving into his yard on School Street. The horse turned too short and one of the wheels of the carriage slipped into the gutter and the vehicle was overturned. Mr. Butterfield struck heavily on the ground. In some way the reins got wound about one of his arms and to add to the danger of the situation, the horse fell. The animal did not attempt to run and Mr. Butterfield was rescued from his perilous position by members of the family. It was thought that the injured man had broken his hip and Dr. Scott was immediately summoned. After the physician had made an examination he announced that he found no bones broken, but some bad bruises. It was while Dr. Scott was attending to Mr. Butterfield's injuries that his carriage was smashed up as described elsewhere in the Townsman to day.

SARATOGA'S GAY WHIRL.

Fads and Fancies At The Springs. Some Saratoga Types. An Immediately Dressed Crowd. The Saratoga Hop.
Saratoga's Great Floral Fete Day.

[SPECIAL TO THE TOWNSMAN]

SARATOGA SPRINGS, SEPT. 8.
The gay whirl of Saratoga's season is now at its height. Music from a dozen hops floats through the streets every evening and but few nights pass without an elaborate ball at one of the big hotels. Chatty groups cover the broad piazzas, handsomely dressed crowds pass up and down the walks, and swell equipages go bowling over the shaded avenues.

"On with the dance! Let joy be unconfin'd."
is the motto of this merry cosmopolitan thrang. There is nothing sleepy about the famous watering place these days, but there soon will be. Saratoga crawls out from her chrysalis in June to pursue her fitful butterfly existence for four solid months. The end of September sees the last flashes of her bright wings and then she retires for eight months of hum-drum monotony.
In the season her population is often 24,000; in the winter it is little over 12,000. The autumn races are now over and many are turning their faces toward the city so that all this splendor and animation will soon begin to fade.

Saratoga is the American Monte Carlo. A little less wicked to be sure, since grim Reform has stepped in and put an end to the once famous gaming establishments, but in other features as flippant and as dizzy as the Mediterranean resort. But comparisons, though sometimes convenient, are apt to be odious, and it is well to remember that there is and can be but one Saratoga in the world. Here assembles a curious mingling of a class of leaders in politics, society, fashion and sports. They are not the highest leaders perhaps, but it might be safe to characterize them by saying that they are the sort of leaders whose names you see the oftentimes in the newspapers. Here are affluent Americans and affluent visitors from foreign countries. They all have money and a plenty or they wouldn't be here, for it takes a respectable bank account to keep long in the pace set at the Spa.
A short time ago every hotel was filled to the roof. The story is told of a millionaire who came to the Springs at that time, and on going to his favorite hotel, was told that they could not furnish him with a suite of rooms for fifty dollars per day. He demurred at the price, but immediately registered when the clerk respectfully informed him that a well known jockey had the adjoining room at sixty dollars a day and had not offered an objection!

The city's tone is here, and the city's social whirl is here, accentuated rather than abated. Along Broadway, Saratoga's principal street, are handsome shops which look as if they had been transplanted from New York's Broadway. Behind broad plate glass windows can be seen the latest Paris modes and curious and confections, looking strangely inappropriate in a town of this size. There are several brokerage firms with tickers in their establishments giving telegraphic returns from the New York Stock Exchange. At the largest of these places about twenty men gather every afternoon to watch the returns. The big room provided for them is filled with easy chairs and the spectators sit and smoke while the attendant chalks the quotations of the various stocks upon an enormous blackboard covering one whole side of the room.

Among the people you see about this lively town are some interesting types. On every piazza will be found the professional politician of the machine order. At present all the Tammany potentates have rooms at the United States Hotel, and every afternoon groups of these portly statesmen may be seen in ultra confidential conversation. The schemes are being formulated which will be put into operation in the big political fight for control of Greater New York. The wealthy New Yorker brings his horses and carriages up to the Springs and many conspicuous leaders in financial and commercial circles can be recognized on the favorite drives. It does not require a long search of the hotel registers to find the name of some prominent actress, and many, like Miss Russell, make Saratoga their regular Mecca, season after season. The resort is less a Sanitarium than it used to be, but now and then an invalid reminds you that the town has virtues other than the ephemeral. Saratoga hasn't the solidarity of Newport or Lenox. A more cosmopolitan assemblage gathers here and the cold of the place is decidedly more artificial.

The conspicuous characteristic of all the people here is their dress, which is of the highest order of richness and elegance. The women and the men are alike beautifully clothed. The lavishness of their costumes is such that it is not an exaggeration to say that every young woman one meets is stunningly gowned. Even in outing costumes the most scrupulous care is exercised, and a golfing or a bicycle shirt usually bears a Worth or Redfern cut. As Miss Lillian Russell said of Saratoga the other day:

"If it was only to have the privilege of looking at the throngs of beautiful women who are here, it would be worth while making a trip to Saratoga. I have been pretty well around the world, but no where have I seen so many beautiful and well dressed women as at Saratoga this season. The array is bewildering. And it is not alone that the women are good looking and well gowned, but that they know how to wear their pretty gowns, and they know how to carry themselves. They are chic. They look as if they had been carefully trained how to walk and how to hold their heads. The result is charming. No other country could make such a brave showing in this regard as you may see here any morning, sitting on your hotel piazza and letting the women pass in review."

The Saratoga day is spent pretty much the same by all. In the morning it is the thing to walk to your favorite spring, if it is within walking distance, and take the waters. Then the rest of the morning is spent in chat and after lunch everybody goes driving, the favorite drive being to Saratoga Lake, a beautiful body of water four miles south of the town.
Social functions fill the evening.
Wherever one may be in Saratoga of an evening he is sure of being within a stone's throw of a hop or a ball. A noticeable feature of this season's hope is that the spectators invariably outnumber the participants. The waltzes and quadrilles which used to be so popular have given way to innumerable two steps. Saratoga is always looking ahead to some big "event".
The Floral Parade and Battle of Flowers, which has just been held, is one of the most important of these events. This floral fete is held each year under the auspices of the Saratoga Floral Association. Visitors come long distances to witness the glorious pageant, all the railways bringing in excursionists. Preparations for the fete may be said to begin in the Spring, for it is then that the Association's large flower gardens are planted, and all summer the brilliant flowers are nurtured for the festival day. The features of this year's parade were the Bicycle Division, the Floats of Mythological and Historical design, the completely decorated Private Carriages and the partially decorated Private Turnouts; all these divisions being magnificently decorated with a profusion of flowers. It is said that in its beauty and spectacular effects this floral parade exceeds any other in the world. In the evening of Parade Day the grand Floral Ball was held in Convention Hall. This magnificent ball was opened by a Spectacular Fantasia called "The Realm of the Roses" conducted by one hundred and thirty "Muses and Masters". All of the participants were profusely decorated with bright flowers and when the Calcium light of various colors was turned upon them, the effect was of fairy-like beauty.

HISTORICAL ANDOVER.

No. 65.

JOHN LOVEJOY'S FARMS.

In 1683, the patriarch Lovejoy gave a generous portion to his grandson John on condition that he pay the dowry of his sister or of his two youngest aunts, the widow Naomi to pay rent during her widowhood for the estate on his demand. In 1695 "Nathaniel married Dorothy Holt and carried out the will of his father by paying the dowry aforesaid receiving land in exchange, and he swaps about with "Ebenezer on the old home acres, until he is settled here at the boundary between the parishes, and begins to call in the paternal inheritance in sections.
The great division of old John Frye held by grand children had come into the market, and 80 acres in the West Parish purchased by "Ebenezer, "Christopher and William Foster, the new pioneer over there from Boxford, kin to Abraham and Andrew already in our business centre, gave Nathaniel his opportunity. "Joseph moved along towards the Salem turnpike, and held lands for his daughter Sara, wife of Joseph Clark. They raise and baptize a large family of children here before they go north to Souhegan selling as late as 1748, the estate of Joseph, laborer, now gentleman, valued at 452£ and Isaac Blunt. Her brother "Ben and "Joseph, in their surveys of new purchases along the old Boston road that swayed from Carter's Hill, across Punchard Avenue to Elm Street before they signed their last papers, always kept close at Nathanie's heels. He had four sons and two daughters to place. "Timothy got some of Cousin Sarah Clark's land and somewhere about was room suitable for his Tan House. He disappears from our records in the new generation and his brother "Ezekiel with his wife Elizabeth Wilson are entirely overshadowed by the rising Holts' beams. His girls marry Haverhill and Lunenburg men and some wander to Lancaster with the Abbott emigrants. "Daniel also married Mary Holt proved an able helpmeet. I think these Holts all belonged on the Holt Row down on the Reading line, for several missing families besides Dan Lovejoy's seem to baptize infants and recognize baptismal covenants, etc. in our South church, but never appear on the town books. In this way "Nathaniel with his Elizabeth Swan was the head of the North Parish line so well represented by "Nathaniel, Captain, schoolteacher, outliving two brides, Elizabeth Foster and one other, marrying in old age Benjamin Woodbridge. Equire he is when in wartime he buries his three eldest. Of those born later I could only connect "Elizabeth Foster Lovejoy who married Jacob Farnum in 1798, who was drowned so soon after the home was begun, the line ending in Jacob Farnum of West New bury, a bachelor. The other descendant was Brig. Gen. "Nathaniel Lovejoy, a Harvard man, trader of North Parish.

Of the children of "Joseph only Lydia seems to have crossed the Shawahin to become the wife of her cousin Caleb Johnson, a most interesting person belonging to the family of Lieut. William Johnson and "Sara Lovejoy. There is a possibility of this family being connected with an other line of Johnsons from Woburn, sympathizers, if not members of the martyr Baptist associates of Bellingham and Bradstreet persecutions. In 1714, as mentioned last week, "John Lovejoy sold all his rights in the home lands to William Foster of the West Shawahin syndicate and in 1728, the fine estate so carefully builded by Lieut.
William Johnson near Dea. Wm. Lovejoy's on the highway that leads to William Foster's, the Merrimac lands and Lovejoy purchase all go through Caleb and Sara's hands to the same William Foster, Pillar of Rocks near Billericia line included. Was this homestead the old house now being painted "old fashioned" that travelled down the road to Holt's Bridge into the hollow of the Shawahin for "Master Billy's school"? Did Gideon, son of said William, build a new house on the old site left behind or did he keep the old Johnson place? At any rate, when our Dea. Ballard Lovejoy came back from Brentwood after a wandering from the old home he settles down at Gideon's house and about fifty years ago built his present residence. At Joseph T. Lovejoy's next by is an old Woods house, the family of Andrew Dunklee Woods perhaps of Lovejoy kin. This is the only old house standing on the old Lovejoy division, and the Carruth estate marks the site possibly of the house longest held in the line of "Ebenezer Lovejoy, who gradually took up all the estates to separate, watching the cousins flit off to Norway and "Andover, Maine, and later across the Connecticut.

The line of "Joseph remained for years about Pine Swamp and Carter's Hill while the Abbotts, Fosters, Ward-wells and collateral were crowding in on the older farm lands. Hugh Gordon came to town and "Joseph and Mary Gordon, with Hanna her sister, wife of Thomas Wardwell, sell out in time to a hustling Lemuel Holt in the line of "Henry, who had married "Me-tibel in 1709. Brother "Asa who seems to locate near the Worthley estate was only nineteen and seems to hold on to his share in spite of "Le-sael's well laid plan. Sara Frye his wife probably brought a dowry to help the big taxes they had begun to pay. In fact, he buys land up around the Snow Farm from Lemuel. The famous Cuba woodlot goes to Lemuel from the Fryes, James and Sara, and is still in the market held by Blunts. "Asa raised eleven children and went through the Revolution moving to Norway, Maine about 1800, selling h. pastures to our Simon Wardwell and Ruth Church, the heirs of whom held in the present Cap. Reed place, the last of "Asa Lovejoy's acres. Poor Joseph and Mary Gordon had better have gone to the dry, pure air of the pine hills "down East." Consumption won many of the Lovejoy's at their prime. "John, son of "Joseph followed Jacob Holt's Rhoda to Albany, Maine, where the family went over two hundred miles one winter on a sled. His sister Hanna and brother Abner died at maturity and in the South Church is recorded the baptism of the infant "Amos, son of "Amos and Elizabeth (Wardwell) "at his own house, sick with consumption and likely never to go out again." The next year, young Elizabeth is presented after her father's death and probably the children were brought up by Samuel Lummins, the step-father. I could not trace the children of this line to any one now resident.

"Christopher and Sara Russe sent "Miriam to Robert Gray, Elizabeth and Mary to Methuen with Barkers, and Margaret after some friction on the part of her father at the time of the banns, finally married Capt. Charles Furbush. For the story of his death in camp, at Champlain see p. 255 Bailey History. Margaret's son, a Capt. at Bunker Hill later had a tragic death, killed by his insane servant while asleep early on the winter morning in February 1795. I should like to see the record of the court on this case which might give some light on the peculiar temper of an otherwise estimable man, who like other good men in power, seems to have delighted in playing with the capricious and unmanageable creature none other cared to own but himself. He promised to make the poor man his heir and excited his cupidity. A military prowess and training often accompanies this love of "badgering" or playing with edged tools and perhaps old Christopher Lovejoy was wise. Margaret's grandson served at Bunker Hill and the family line of Furbush is well represented by the women who are bent to "bruise serpent's heads." Blessings for our grandmothers! The three sons of this line, "Ezekiel, wife Hanna unknown, except from the Osgood almanac. "Hes Lovejoy's mother died April 19, 1745. "Christopher, wife Mary Preston, and "Jonathan, wife Elizabeth Phelps send children to Souhegan, Hebron, Andover, Maine, and Hollis, N. H. "Jonathan, who married Mary Austin 1741, I am confident will prove to be ancestor of Prof. Austin Phelps, whose father Eliakim is in some way in the West Parish line, guessing from the family names only.

"Isaac Lovejoy, son of Christopher, married Mary Pevey widow of Eliakim Wardwell, and the farms held by B.
F. Wardwell and John Holt on the old Boston Road lie over the possessions of their ancestors. Isaac's "Lucy raised that large family of Caleb Abbott's just under the south slope of Prospect Hill, and just here I am glad to present to you the only Andover boys of his line, the sons of Nathan Abbott, the grandsons of Lucy. If I had studied the school reports as carefully as I have the older records, they would not have been left hidden behind their elder sisters' skirts. (Garfield must live up to his name.) Isaac and Ruth Davis left us the family of Jewett Jones and Susan, Isaac Carlton and Martha, Amos Gray and Lucy, "Orlando (or Allander as Rev. Mr.
Phillips had spelled it years ago) giving me more trouble than all the Love-joys of the race. He had a William, who married Phebe Stiles running in the records with William of Ebenezer's line. I have it right perhaps, in placing here the late Stephen Lovejoy and Lydia Simpson with a son Albert, and "Sylvester who with Clarissa Fox was father of our voter Sylvester, and "Sylvanus who lived to 80 with "Sylvanus A. and "Edward, besides Mary H. wife of the late Timothy Parker Holt.

Every tree and stone wall around his little shoemaker's shop tell stories of the older days. Pine Swamp has filled up, and where my small brother used to shoot eagles, rabbits, and wood-cocks, the inevitable rural hencoop bars the way. "Christopher left us Abiel Osgood and sister Anne. It was in his line that Stephen, who married Pamela Bragg came, sending back Harriet from Andover, Maine, to marry John Bodwell. I met these cousins of our Hon. Moses Stevens and Henry Bodwell lately and a neighbor who gilded me there said "Nice people, very nice indeed!" "Ebenezer takes a paper by himself.

Nervous

People wonder why their nerves are so weak; why they get tired so easily; why they do not sleep naturally; why they have frequent head aches, indigestion and Nervous Dyspepsia. The explanation is simple. It is found in that impure blood feeding the nerves on refuse instead of the elements of strength and vigor. Opium and nerve compounds simply deaden and do not cure.
Hood's Sarsaparilla feeds the nerves pure, rich blood; gives natural sleep, perfect digestion, is the true remedy for all nervous troubles.

Care of our Roadsides.

One of the chief charms of life in the country at this season of the year is the ever changing natural beauty of the roadside. Every where and in every kind of vegetable life the change of Autumn is going on and new shades are constantly being added to the vines that cover the walls, the plants and "weeds" that line the roadsides, and the trees that meet the eye on every hand.

But alas how differently people see these things! While the golden-rod nodding in the sunlight, the beautiful banks of ferns against the moss covered stone walls, the brilliant sumac and the clinging clematis, arouse the very highest and deepest enthusiasm in the summer visitor and the lover of nature, they are at the same time showing themselves to the sturdy farmer as so much chaff and clutter, fit only for a rainy day crusade with the bush scythe as a weapon.

Our own town sees almost countless examples of the gratification of this tendency on the part of the farmer, and beautiful drives are almost yearly sacrificed to his failure to see that the very richest and most beautiful of the Creator's building, is his daily scene of color and verdure along the roadside.

We are free to say that the education of the farmer is all against such apparent disorder as the sides of the country road present. His first instruction and constant teaching is to keep the farm clean; the daisy and goldenrod cease to be beautiful when they get into his hay crop and the picturesque stone wall gives way to the clean and well built ugly wire fence because the latter gives the farmer so much less care, and his stones are marketable for cellar walls.

But surely there is a medium between the farmer's practical eye and the aesthetic landscape lover's view. The farmer needs to learn to appreciate more fully the beauty of his every-day surroundings, and the nature lover likewise needs to learn what pests his much admired native flowers sometimes become, to the man who depends upon what he can get out of the earth, for his daily bread.

Such an appreciation of each other's desires and needs, and we shall see our suburban roadways more beautiful than ever, because of the larger intelligence displayed in their trimming and planting. Is it too late for Andover to experience a little of this "larger intelligence" before the annual "bush-whacking"?

Editorial Clinders.

The retirement is announced of James H. Derbyshire from the county commission contest. This leaves the fight for delegates in this neighborhood between T. M. Cogswell of Lawrence and Calvin Rea of North Andover. Mr. Cogswell is well known in Andover where his young days were spent, and where he is still very popular.

The TOWNSMAN deals with prospects in its story of the school opening today, but they who prophesy are so well acquainted with the signs, there is but little doubt that Andover is entering upon a big year for her chief industry.

Police Commissioner Clark of Boston, who has been travelling abroad at the public expense, returns with the important information that Boston needs a beer garden. A man landing at the Union Station is much inclined to think the whole city is pretty nearly that now.

Major Merrill has resigned because he was so badly abused. And he was once a newspaper editor?

The latest use for electricity is to cure balky horses; the next use will be to cure disobedient children.

OPENING OF THE SCHOOLS.

Nearly Two Thousand Students to Receive Instruction at Andover This Year.

The educational institutions of Andover will be re-opened for another year's work next week. Over a thousand pupils will attend the public schools and nearly a thousand young men and women will enjoy the advantages of instruction at the Theological Seminary, Abbot and Phillips Academies.

The Public Schools.

The public schools will open Monday morning, and all the school houses are in readiness to receive the scholars after their long rest.

The much needed grading about the John Dove school has been continued and a concrete sidewalk on Bartlett Street built during the vacation. The walks to the school have also been concreted. The interior of the John Dove school has undergone a thorough renovation in paint and fresco work. The tinting has been selected with a view to securing a result which will produce a pleasing effect to the eye without any brightness which might prove injurious. Supt. Johnson told the TOWNSMAN reporter that the outlook is good for large schools as well as in the kindergarten department. It is possible that there will be a slight falling off in attendance at the Ballardvale schools owing to the fact that several families have left town, but it is quite certain that there will be a material gain in numbers in school at the centre.

Several changes in the teachers have been made. Miss Anna E. Chase will succeed Eleanor J. Clark as principal of the Stowe school and the other teachers at that school will advance one grade. Miss Julia E. Carleton of Danvers will take the sixth grade. At the Ballardvale school, Ethel Warren and Mary Pillsbury will be succeeded by Jessie B. F. Greene and Annie M. Downes. Miss Greene is transferred from the 7th and 8th grades of the Abbott Village school. These grades will be discontinued at that school and the pupils will attend the school at the centre. Miss Evelyn Reed will assist Mary A. Dacey at the kindergarten school this year. Gertrude Bartt has been transferred from the Abbott School to the West Centre school. Eva Hardy will have charge of the Scotland school this year, and Caroline S. Daniels of Ipswich will teach at the Osgood school. The North school will be conducted by Miss Phillips of Frye Village.

At the Punched Free School the only change will be the absence of Miss Carter.

The complete list of teachers in the public schools of Andover follows:

Abbot Academy.

To the TOWNSMAN reporter, Miss Laura Watson, principal of Abbot Academy, said last night that there is every prospect of a good attendance at that institution this year. Miss Watson says that the number of day scholars, especially young ladies from Lawrence, will be larger than usual this year.

There will be no change in the curriculum of the school and the same teachers will have charge of the instruction at the Academy.

The Academy will open next Thursday, September 12.

Phillips Academy.

The buildings and grounds belonging to Phillips Andover Academy are being put in order for the re-opening of school next Wednesday. A good attendance is expected this year, but it is at present impossible to estimate the probable number of students. The electric car facilities between Andover and Lawrence, have induced many Lawrence people to send their sons to Andover.

Principal Bancroft, who, with his family has spent the greater part of the vacation, at Mt. Vernon, N. H., has returned to Andover and is busy attending to the many duties incidental to the approach of the school year which will be the twenty-fifth of the present administration.

Most of the instructors, who have spent the vacation in various parts of the country, are now in Andover ready for work. Prof. Charles H. Forbes will be away this year. With his wife, Mr. Forbes will spend several months abroad in travel and study. The efficient registrar, George D. Pettus, after ten years of active service will take a year's leave of absence and will pursue courses in political economics at Cambridge, Eng., and Freiburg.

Robert S. McLenahan, who taught Latin and Greek last year, will take charge of the system of schools, including a college at Agypt, Egypt, which are under control of the United Presbyterian of the United States. Prof. Clifford H. Moore, now of the University of Chicago, but recently professor of Greek at the Academy, has been abroad more than a year and has taken the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at the University of Munich.

Gilbert N. Lewis, laboratory assistant last year, resumes his graduate studies at Harvard University and his successor will be E. T. Brewster, son of John L. Brewster, and a graduate of Harvard University and a graduate student there for two years. Mr. Brewster has devoted himself to Chemistry and Physics. H. I. Ford, who has been absent and whose place was taken temporarily by H. W. Bunn, the past year, resumes his position as one of the teachers this year. Arthur W. Ryder, a graduate of the Academy in 1894 and of Harvard in 1897, and who in addition to his reputation for high scholarship, won many honors as an amateur chess player, representing his college at the tournament in New York, has been added to the staff which numbers twenty graduates of various colleges, including Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth, Amherst, Brown, Wesleyan, University of Vermont and the Sheffield Scientific school.

Theological Seminary.

The Andover Theological Seminary will open Sept. 23 on what promises to be a most successful year.

Famous Scotch Contraltos.

Lovers of good music are promised a rare treat at the coming anniversary of the Lawrence Caledonian Club when Mrs. Jennie Livingstone-Sherburne of Lowell will sing some of her most taking selections. Mrs. Livingstone-Sherburne is without a peer among Scotch contraltos and the Scotchmen from Lawrence and vicinity will be glad to hear her.

"Afraid of his Neighbor."

Robert R. Stanley swears that he is afraid of William Hartley, his neighbor, and he has sought protection from the courts. At his instigation a warrant was sworn out against Hartley, and Friday the case was called in police court before Judge Poor. Stanley admitted in court that he is not afraid that Hartley would injure him should they come to blows, for their physical proportions are about 16 to 1; but he claims that his neighbor has threatened "to do for him," and that he is afraid he will be shot or poisoned. The testimony shows that all the trouble between the two parties was occasioned by the pranks of Hartley's two little sons, who, Stanley claims, steal his apples, eggs, corn, etc. The neighborhood warfare was brought to a climax when Stanley claimed that he caught the Hartley boys knocking apples from the trees in his orchard. He remonstrated with the parents of the youngsters, but got little satisfaction, he says, and did get threatened. There was nothing to show, however, that Hartley was a dangerous man, or that he had any intention to take his neighbor's life or injure him in any way. He was therefore discharged, but warned to keep the peace. His boys were given a lecture by the judge which they will not forget in a hurry. They were both present at the trial and denied that they had ever touched a thing belonging to Mr. Stanley.

If strength is what you want, you should study your weakness. It is practically lack of food. But you eat three meals a day, and all you can eat at a time.

Food undigested is not food. It is not nourishment.

It doesn't create strength. To digest your food take Shaker Digestive Cordial at meals. After a while you will digest your food without it. Then you will get well and strong and healthy.

Shaker Digestive Cordial cures indigestion and all its symptoms, such as nausea, headache, eructations, pain in the stomach, giddiness, loss of appetite, etc. It makes your food nourish you, and make you strong and fat and hearty. Druggists sell it. Trial bottle 10 cents.

Don't Miss It.

At the York County Fair you will find so many interesting sights that you will never regret having attended it. First of all in the amusement line is a continuous free show during the days of the fair, while horse racing, Firemen's Muster and parades will help enliven the occasion. Perhaps one of the most interesting of its many attractions is the famous cavalry from Fort Ethan Allen. These riders are a marvelous lot and the feats which they perform are exciting and are inspiring. Tickets, including an admission to the grounds, are on sale at various Boston & Maine Stations.

WOODBURY-BRAINERD WEDDINGS

Pretty Wedding Held at "Elmwood," in Scotland District, Wednesday.

There was abundant joy Wednesday afternoon at Elmwood, the summer retreat of A. W. Brainerd and family in Scotland District, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Ethel Maude Brainerd, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Brainerd of North Andover, to William Sanford Woodbury, overseer of Millville, N. J., mills, formerly of this city.

At 4 o'clock the bride, resting upon the arm of her father, entered the presence of many guests, in the prettily decorated parlor, and was awaited by the groom beneath a floral arch and the festooned stars and stripes. Both bride and groom were unattended. Rev. Eliza Hodge of Waltham, a former pastor at North Andover, performed the ceremony, using a ring.

The bride's attire was a travelling suit of pearl broadcloth trimmed with a darker shade of silk. The hat a dainty creation, matched the gown. Bride's roses were the favorite flowers, a single blossom being worn in the hair. The gift of the groom to the bride was a diamond brooch.

Directly after the ceremony came a season of congratulations and well-wishing, Mr. and Mrs. Woodbury being assisted in receiving by her parents and Mr. and Mrs. Parker of Lawrence. After a nice wedding collation Mr. and Mrs. Woodbury retired from the scene of animation and commenced the journey of life accompanied with a varied assortment of lucky omens. They left Andover station, on the 5.45 train, for Fall River, by boat to New York, will visit Atlantic City and Philadelphia, being at home to friends in Millville, after Oct. 1.

Two brothers of the bride, Messrs. Albert and Percy Brainerd, were the ushers and Miss Annie Reed of Gloucester and Miss Helen Folsom of Lawrence served the wedding cake. Florist Millet of this town decorated the rooms very artistically, field and garden contributing to the scene. Golden-rod and asters predominated. Allen Hinton catered for the occasion.

There was a select and costly array of gifts bestowed upon the bride. Prominent among the guests were Hon. W. P. Thompson, the well known lawyer of Belfast, Me., uncle of the bride. Other guests represented Boston, Hyde Park, Thorndyke, Eastport and Belfast, Me., Gloucester, Lawrence, Andover, Methuen and North Andover.

LOCAL BASEBALL CONTESTS.

Andover Social Club Miss Played Two Games the Past Week.

The Andover Social club nine defeated the Riverides of Lawrence on the Phillips Academy campus by a score of 9 to 5 in seven innings.

The game ended in a dispute and was given to the Social club, 9 to 0 by the umpire, because the Riverides would not accept one of his decisions and refused to play the game out.

The disputed decision was one made at the plate. A Riveride player started for home and the catcher ran abreast of him. Saunders rushed in to back-up. McNally and collided with the catcher. Both players fell and the runner on top of them. McNally tagged the runner and the man was declared out. The Riverides would not accept the decision, claiming that Saunders interfered while the umpire maintained that the interference was due to the catcher who had been running when he had no right to. The Riverides would not submit and left the field, much to the disgust of the large number of spectators who had gathered to witness the game.

The contest had been an interesting and close one. Six singles were all the Riverides were able to make off Saunders' delivery. The Social club secured but three hits, one by Little being a sharp one for three bases. Both teams had five errors against them.

SALEM, 8; SOCIAL CLUB, 3.

The deciding game between the Salem, N. H., and Social club base ball nine, which was played Saturday drew a large crowd to the Phillips Academy campus. The rivalry between the two teams is great and a close contest was expected. The Andover nine held the lead 3 to 2 up to the eighth inning when errors and hits gave the Salem boys six runs and the game. Saunders pitched effectively except in the fatal inning and received good support. He struck out eight of the Salem heavy hitters.

Indian Ridge Lawn Party.

It will not be necessary to give any description of the more familiar entertainments proposed for the Indian Ridge Lawn Party of Sept. 25th, such as Doubley Riding, Punch and Judy, Grab Bag, Shooting Gallery, Swinging Chairs, High Land Fling, etc. But it may not be amiss to say a few words of two others less well known, namely the "Pied Piper" and "Betty Ross".

We all know the "Pied Piper" through Browning's poem written in 1842 for Macready's little son Willy, who was confined to the house by illness, and who was to amuse himself by illustrating as well as reading it. We learn that in the old town of Hamelin, 25 miles south west of Hanover, there are still standing many houses of the 12th Century, ornamented with wood carvings on their gables which are turned toward the streets.

The most famous of all the carvings is that of the medieval legend of the Pied Piper, a magician who in the year 1284 for a stipulated sum of money, freed the town of Hamelin from a plague of rats by playing on his pipe, and leading the vermin, which followed the music, into the river Weser, where they were drowned. When the townsman refused to pay the money, the piper returned and, again playing on his magical pipe led the way through the Bungen-Strasse out of the town, this time followed by 130 children. He led them to a hill called the Koppenberg, into which they entered and disappeared.

The story is carried on the Rattenfängerhaus built in 1642, and elsewhere in the town. Ever since 1284 not a note of music is permitted in the Bungen Strasse through which tradition says the piper and the children passed. "So profound" says Baring Gould "was the impression produced by the event that the town dated its public documents from that calamity". To this day one may read written upon a wall in Hamelin the following inscription in gold: "Anno 1284 Am dage Johannis et Pauli war der 26 Junii daren einen piper mit allerlei farne bekleidet Gewesen 130 kinder verledet binnen Hamelin gebon zu Calverie, bi den Koppen verlorien."

Prof. Churchill has kindly promised to read the poem, and Mr. Dowis will see cure a piper whose music will entice the children to follow him until they are lost in the woods.

Now for a word about "Betty Ross", of whom our Andover children could probably tell the story. For the benefit of their elders we will say, that she, the young Quaker widow of a Revolutionary soldier, made the first American flag under Washington's direction. He advised her to use six pointed stars, but she said that she knew how to make five pointed stars with one out of the corners, which she did to his surprise and satisfaction.

There is no portrait of Betty Ross but her grandchildren propose to have a composite picture made from their faces to represent their famous grandmother.

There will be a representative of Betty Ross, dressed in the Friend's garb, at the Lawn Party, who will make five pointed stars with one out of her scizors and these stars will be sold for a few cents.

Pray come and see her, and the Pied Piper, and enjoy all the attractions. Cake, ice-cream, and lemonade as well as coffee and sandwiches will be for sale.

A New Provision Business.

Perhaps not exactly provisions but rather "game" would be a more correct title to apply to the new venture just engaged in by one of Andover's officers. So far his trade has been good but the expense of shipment from Boston is likely to preclude any large business. It was like this; the N. G. went to Boston last Thursday and while sauntering through the market he spied a nest of mice that seemed to be just the "chief's" size.

Cash out, box covered and marked "collect" and a few hours later the new game market in Andover was in full blast, or in full blasphemy. This is as the boys tell it, perhaps some other version might show, other "mice in the meal."

On the Diamond.

The Cuban Giants were defeated by the Riverides on the Salem Street grounds Monday, 15 to 18.

The Haverhill Athletics were scheduled to play with the Social club nine Monday afternoon, but they failed to show up, much to the disappointment of the Social club players and the large number of spectators who had gathered expecting to see a close game.

A game has been arranged between the Andover Social club nine and the strong Young Men's Catholic Association team of Lawrence for to-morrow afternoon on the Phillips Academy campus. The Y. M. C. A. team is champion of Lawrence and will give the local players a hard rub, but the Andover boys are determined to win. Saunders, Andover's pitcher, has played in Lawrence several times this season and the Y. M. C. A. players say they have "raised up" his delivery. Friends of the Lawrence team claim that the champions will be able to knock Saunders out of the box. There is not a man in Andover who believes they will be able to do it, however. The game will be one of the most interesting ever seen in Andover, that is certain.

ADDRESSED TEACHERS.

Supt. Burke spoke on "Education" at High School Building—Touching Tributes.

The first in the series of addresses before the teachers of the public schools was delivered by Supt. Burke Tuesday on the subject of "Education." In beginning he urged the necessity of cheerfulness on the part of the teachers in performing their duties. He spoke of the advance of education and said that college graduates were entering the grammar schools as teachers, and it was only a question of time when all the teachers in the schools would be college graduates. The day is fast approaching, he further said, when colleges will be under the control of the state. He divided education into physical, mental and spiritual. The body, as well as the mind, should be educated and buildings should be built that would not impair the health of either.

In speaking of manual labor Mr.
Burke said that for those who could not attend college he thought an early training in manual labor would be beneficial and this branch of school life should be started in the grammar school. Boys should go to work.
Workmen and collegemen were equally honorable and valuable. He believed in educating man because he is man.
A teacher should study her own mind first and the minds of her pupils afterwards. He was somewhat sceptical of what is termed child study. The mind should form convictions and have the strength to carry them out.

In regard to morality the speaker said it was taught in the public schools although it is claimed that such is not the case. Punctuality, neatness, cleanliness and many other things which make up morality are fostered and consequently taught. In referring to American patriotism, Mr. Burke said the future of the republic depended on the patriotism and intelligence of its people. Patriotism is bred in the soil and should be inculcated into all.

Supt. Burke paid a tribute, in closing his address, to both Dr. Henry V. Donovan, and Miss Emily G. Wetherbee.
They both taught a lesson in loyalty, devotion and patriotism and the heritage of beautiful lives. In referring to Dr.
Donovan he said he had learned to love him while he was a member of the school board. "He was achieving greatness in his profession. He went into intellectual fields, found blossoms, scattered them about and you and I have picked them up."

He spoke of the unobscured life of Miss Wetherbee and pointing to her chair, which was draped and contained a wreath, he said: "This chair is vacant, but she will never be forgotten."

A Boy Missing.

Arthur A. Carver, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Carver, who live at 8 Goldsmith court, off Lowell street, in Methuen, left home Tuesday morning about 8 o'clock ostensibly to school and since that time he has not been seen having disappeared as completely as if the earth had opened and swallowed him.

Nothing was thought of his absence at noon as his mother was away from home at the time and it was thought by other members of the family that he might have accompanied her, unknown to them.

When night came, however, and he had not returned a search was instituted but thus far it has proven unavailing.
The police of Methuen and this city were notified of the absence and the local officers scoured the city but thus far they have been unable to learn anything concerning the boy.

Wednesday morning a sister of the missing child found a note on a settee in the yard which read:

DEAR MOTHER:—The reason why I have gone away is because I don't want to go back to Miss White's school. I will see you again.

From this it seems apparent that his going away was intentional, and it was also learned that he had taken $1 with him which his father gave him a few days ago. The reason he did not wish to attend Miss White's school, again, it is said, was because he failed of promotion at the last examination and his classmates who had passed were to enter another school.

The parents of the boy are nearly desperate at his absence and every effort is being made to locate him. Mr.
Carver has a brother in the employ of the Rockport granite company, and a brother-in-law on the Danvers police force. A brother of Mrs. Carver lives in Concord, N. H., and all have been communicated with, but the boy had not been seen by them. The police of surrounding cities and town have also been notified by postal card, with a description of the lad.

The boy is rather tall for his age and is slim. He is light complexioned, has light blue eyes and light hair and has a rather sickly appearance. He wore a brown coat and knee pants, black satin blouse with small blue spots and a golf cap.

Mr. Carver's family besides his wife consists of two other children, a son 30 years old and a daughter about 15. The absent one was the "baby" and the idol of the household and his home life had always been pleasant and happy. His parents fear that in his anxiety to avoid going to school he has been careless and met with some accident, as it is difficult for them to believe that he would stay otherwise unless he was restrained.

O'Sullivan Very Ill.

Jeremiah T. O'Sullivan is reported to be very ill at Bethlehem, N. H., where he was taken by his friends who hoped that the mountain air would prove beneficial. Now it is proposed to have him taken to Asheville, N. C., in the hope that in a milder climate he may recover his health.

SEPTEMBER BRIDES.

Amid an attractive display of golden rod and asparagus, arranged by young ladies of the high school class of '92 of which the bride was a member, Miss Helen Devitt was united in marriage to Mr. Edgar C. Molby at the home of her mother, 233 Broadway, Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. A. H. Amory, only relatives being present. The couple was unattended.

The bride looked very pretty in her gown of white brocade silk. She carried bride's roses.

A reception followed from 6.30 to 8 o'clock. A bride's screen, composed of golden rod and asparagus, extended across the bay window of the parlor where Mr. and Mrs. Molby received.
The balustrade of the hallway was also hidden beneath a profusion of these decorations.

The ushers were John L. Batchelder of Philadelphia, Harry Campbell of Haverhill, and Leroy S. Colby. A collation was served by Caterer Lane.

The presents received were both numerous and beautiful.

Mr. and Mrs. Molby departed on the 8.45 train from the south depot upon their wedding tour. They will reside at 2209 7th avenue, New York city, and will be at home after September 15.

The bride was formerly a teacher in the Saunders school.

Puffer-Emerson.

One of the prettiest weddings which has taken place in Methuen for a long time occurred at the Congregational church Wed. evening, when Charles Edward Puffer and Miss Georgia Harriet Emerson took upon themselves the solemn vows of matrimony. The church edifice was filled with a happy throng, friends of the young couple, who met to witness the auspicious event. Palms and potted plants and golden rod in profusion served to make the scene most attractive when at 7.30 o'clock as the organ pealed forth the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, entered the church and passed down the centre aisle preceded by the ushers and bridesmaids.

At the altar they were met by the best man, and the Episcopal ceremony, with the wedding ring, was performed by Rev. Charles H. Oliphant, pastor of the church. The bridesmaids were the three sisters of the groom, Misses Grace A., Althea R. and Rena M. Puffer and Miss Maud J. Marble.

The bride was handsomely gowned in white muslin over white silk and wore a veil. She carried white chrysanthemum asters. The bridesmaids wore white muslin over pink and carried pink chrysanthemum asters. Miss Marion R.
Emerson presided at the organ and rendered Mendelssohn's march as the bride's party retired from the church.

Following the ceremony at the church a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Julian F. Emerson, on Pleasant street, and scores of friends called to congratulate the happy pair. The reception was held in the parlor, which was beautifully adorned with cut flowers in abundant and with ferns which were made to form an arch in one corner of the room, beneath which the bride and bridegroom stood. They were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. J. F.
Emerson and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Puffer, parents of the groom.

A dainty wedding lunch was served, Page of Lowell catering. The ushers were Charles B. and Ernest G. Marble and Edward D. and Harry H. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Puffer were the recipients of a large number of beautiful and costly gifts, including silver and cut glass ware, house furnishings and bric-a-brac. They left on the 9.30 o'clock train from Lawrence and will enjoy a trip to New York, later going to Montreal, Can., and the Thousand Islands.
Returning they will reside in Thomaston, Conn., where Mr. Puffer holds a position in the office of The Plume & Atwood manufacturing company. Both of the young people are graduates of the Methuen high school.

Wefers-Herbst.

The marriage of John B. Wefers and Miss Jennie Herbst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Herbst of Methuen, took place at the German Catholic church Wednesday, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Fr. Schmickler. The bride wore white laced gown. She was attended by her sister, Miss Annie Herbst, who was attired in white muslin. Bernard L. Wefers, brother of the groom, was best man. The German choir furnished music at the church.

A reception was held in Matthes hall in the evening, and was largely attended. Mr. and Mrs. Wefers will reside at 1 Boston street, after the wedding trip.

Brooks-Devine.

Joseph J. Brooks of the police force, and Miss Nellie T. Devine were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. Valiquette at St. Mary's chapel Tuesday. Ex-representative Thomas A. Brooks, brother of the groom, was best man and Miss Annie Keefe was bridesmaid. A reception was afterwards held at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks will spend their honeymoon at the White Mountains. They will reside at Trenton street.

O'Brien-Maxwell.

Hugh O'Brien and Miss Mary Maxwell were united in marriage at St.
Mary's chapel Wednesday afternoon by Rev. Fr. Valiquette. Miss Jennie Doran of Methuen attended the bride.

The bride was attired in fawn colored gown, trimmed with chiffon. The bridesmaid wore white muslin.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents on Tenney street.
After their wedding tour Mr. and Mrs.
O'Brien will reside on Spruce street.

Flautine-Prince.

Arthur Flautine and Miss Sarah Prince were married at 8 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at St. Mary's church by Fr. Valiquette.

Conlon-Dyer.

James Joseph Conlon and Miss Annie Agnes Dyer were united in marriage Monday morning, Sept. 6, at 11 o'clock, in St. Mary's church, by Rev. Fr. Vali-quette. Miss Nellie Dyer, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, while Michael Foley acted as groomsmen. Many costly and beautiful presents were bestowed.

Schools Open.

The public schools opened Tuesday morning after the long vacation, with a large attendance. The exact numbers are not at present known, but in the case of the High and Arlington schools there is every indication that the increase is fully as great as expected.

The Newton street school was opened by Principal Richard W. Nutter and ten assistants and is completely filled.
There are ten rooms, five of grammar grade. This relieves the Packard school greatly. The attendance at the other grammar schools seems about the same as last year.

The total number registering in the high school entering class this morning was 213. Several more pupils are expected. Last year the first year class numbered 163. The total enrollment is not obtainable just at present, but is nearly 475.

The training school opened, the new pupil, admitted by vote of the school board Mon. night, being: Misses Theresa Toomey, Lauretta McCabe, Margaret Houston, Ellen M. Churchill, Bertha M.
Wilson, George M. Follansbee, Ellen M.
Riordan and Margaret S. Brown. Those who will enter in February are:
Mary F. Dacey, Florence E.
Bridges, Annie M. Kennedy, Alice McKenney, Mabel M. Mullen, Helen F. Giney, Mary A. Kennedy and Eleanor P. Sullivan. Miss Ella F.
Eastman will have charge of the school during Mrs. Lamprey's absence.

The following assignments have been made:

Newton street school: Misses Scollard, Marietta Shannahan, Mary Collins, Elizabeth Entwistle, Harriet Dockrell, Eleanor Sullivan, Grace E. Mausie, Nora O'Neill, Sarah White and Miss Sherbourne.

Packard: Miss Shinnick and Miss Clifford. Oliver: Miss Charlotte Horn during Miss Taylor's absence. Tarbox: Miss McIntyre. Arlington: Miss Sandiford. Saunders: Miss Wilcox. Newbury street: Miss Gill. Arlington: Miss Hayden. Franklin: Miss Dunn. Lowell street to Riverside: Miss Griffin. Riverside to Lowell: Miss Skinner. Essex school annex: Miss Skinner.

Miss Barlow is now assistant in the Essex school. Her place is taken by Miss Kerr.

On 68 Hour Time.

Operations were resumed at the Everett mills Tuesday, after a suspension of a month. Agent Milliken informed a reporter that all departments had started up and would run on regular time of 58 hours per week. When the mills shut down the running time was 52 1/2 hours a week.

Operations had been resumed in the picking, carding and dyeing departments last Thursday, these departments having been a little behind on their work.

Agent Milliken spoke in a hopeful tone of the business situation.

At the Washington a night force is employed, and at Kunhardt's mill spinners are employed extra time, pending the arrival of additional machinery.

It is understood that the outlook at the Arlington mills is very encouraging. Although the management has been curtailing the production, this is said to be because the mills were kept in operation during the dull period, so that the storehouses became overstocked, and it is desired to reduce the amount of goods on hand.

The sale of "wool tops" for last month is said to have been the largest in the history of the mill.

Lively Runaway.

Quite a lively runaway occurred on Broadway and Essex streets Tuesday forenoon. One of the Fleischman yeast teams was standing on Broadway when the horse took fright and started down street. He turned into Methuen street and then dashed up the alley between Breckin block the transfer station to Essex street. There the team was stopped in time to avert a second runaway but the Fleischman horse was not held up until he had dashed into the alley between Heroux's clothing store and Clayton's boot blacking stand. The team was badly smashed up and dozens of yeast cake receptacles scattered about the streets.

Sewer Work Begun.

Work has begun on the sewers, for the construction of which the $20,000 sewer loan was created.
Supt. Ryan started gangs of men Tues-terday working in Bellevue, Smith and Worwick streets in ward five. A sewer in State street will be begun soon and the South Union street sewer will be continued. Next week Supt. Ryan will start the sewer on Sargent street to East Haverhill street and also on the High street sewer. The Lawrence street sewer will probably be built this year.

Her Purse Snatched.

A daring theft was committed at the corner of Bradford and Amesbury streets Saturday night. Miss Lizzie O'Hearn was returning to her house when two boys, apparently about 15 years of age, came up to her and one of them snatched her purse, which she carried in her hand. She gave chase but was unable to overtake them. The pursebook contained about $8 in money. Miss O'Hearn also had a watch in her hand, having taken it from the jeweler's, where it had been repaired.
The boys, however, did not secure the timepiece.

PIANOS

Few people have the courage to buy a cheap piano after carefully examining a really fine one. A pretty casing is often designed to sell a poor musical instrument. These well known makes combine beauty outside and worth within. Among the first-class ones these three are the most popular—not low priced and inferior, but cheap for their superior quality. These pianos can be purchased from $300 to $450, according to size and case—quality just the same. We will rent you one of these famous instruments for three months delivered right in your home for $15. Medium grade pianos for $13. Cheap pianos for $10. If you decide the piano is all we claim for it and decide to purchase, the rent will be allowed as payment on your instrument.

W. H. HIGGINS*Around the County*A Small Pox Scare.

GLOUCESTER, Sept. 7. — Both branches of the city council met this evening. In the lower board the members took up the bills contracted by the board of health in the recent smallpox scare. They were ordered read item by item. The members thought the charges rather steep and the fare at the posthouse rather sumptuous. Councilman Cressy said he would like to run the risk and board there.

One man put in his bill for milk at six cents a quart, the regular rate. A member facetiously moved that it be raised to 12 cents a quart, in order to harmonize with the others. They were finally approved, with the exception of the bill of the city physician for $500. On this Councilman Cressy suggested that the doctor "take down" his bill materially. Councilman Sleep wanted to know who authorized the city physician to contract those bills. He called for an itemized account of the names of "about 300 persons" said to have been vaccinated. None was produced. Mr. Cressy also thought the bill was steep and should be scaled.

Councilman Keith doubted whether he had vaccinated the number claimed; if so why were not the names forthcoming. He thought a good deal of the bill was for imaginary services. The physician's bill was laid on the table.

Lobstermen Are Safe.

SWAMPSCOTT, Sept. 9. — The coming of State Officer Proctor to this town to serve warrants on the fishermen who were guilty of having short lobsters in their possession, is no longer looked for. Although he captured lobsters from the cats of Swampscott fishermen, it is understood that he has no direct evidence against any respective lobsterman, as the cars from which he made the capture are unmarked and their case cannot be carried to the courts for this special reason.

Capt. Proctor has made many seizures along the Essex county shores, but they were usually one or two at a time, and the owners could be identified with the cars from which the capture was made, but in this case, where there were eight or nine pots visited, it would be almost impossible to find the owner of each, for they seldom visit their cars, and when they do it is when they are quite sure that they are not watched either by Capt. Proctor or his assistants, more especially when they know they have lobsters in their possession which are underized.

It is the general opinion of the fishermen that the matter will be dropped and never heard from in or out of court; nevertheless they will be over careful that he does not have the opportunity to find the respective owners of the many lobster cars.

May Have Killed Himself.

HAVERHILL, Sept. 9. — The mystery attending the disappearance of Harold Nutter, who has not been heard from since last Friday, continues, and his relatives now fear that he has committed suicide. Mrs. Shaw, with whom the missing young man boarded, today stated that recently he appeared and acted peculiarly, and she thinks that when he left her house last Friday morning, he intended to commit suicide. He was apprenticed to a local plumber, and he had often complained that he did not like the trade. His relatives intend to continue the search, and the police have sent notices of the missing youth to the police throughout New England.

SALEM, Sept. 9. — The will of the late Hannah Stone of this city has been filed at the probate office. It was executed August 5, 1896, and bequeathed her household property to her brothers, and all the rest and residue of her estate to her niece, Annie Stone, Eliza Jackson Stone and Mrs. Sarah Jackson Grinnell, the last the daughter of her late brother, John O. Stone. The beneficiaries reside in New York. Miss Annie Stone is named the executrix. It is estimated that the estate of the deceased will in ventory upward of a quarter of a million of dollars, and the estate of the family which, on the death of William J. Stone, will pass to the foregoing nieces, will inventory nearly a million dollars.

A Gloucester Wedding.

Gloucester, Sept. 8. — A very pretty wedding took place yesterday at the Rowe summer cottage at Fernwood, West Gloucester, when Miss Nellie Norwood Rowe, youngest daughter of the late Capt. Joseph Rowe, and George Lawrence Lux of Hartford, Conn., were married by Rev. Rufus P. Hubbard of the Congregationalist church. The ring ceremony was used.

rested in Salem. The boys have been watched for some time, suspicion having been aroused to them by the fact that they have been privately disposing of their booty.

Seized Liquor at Wenham.

WENHAM, Sept. 9. — Sunday the Wenham police made a raid upon Hotel Comfort, Wenham Neck, and surprised the landlady, Mrs. Lattimer. The officers secured 41 pints of lager beer and a pint of whiskey, which was hidden in the woods near the place. Mrs. Lattimer was observed in the act about a month ago on a similar charge.

New School in Lynn.

Lynn, Sept. 8. — The new eight-room primary school building on Eastern avenue has been completed, and was turned over to the custody of the school board by the committee on education of the city government yesterday afternoon, the exercises of the transfer of the keys taking place in the assembly hall at the school building.

HOOD'S PILLS cure Liver Ills, Biliousness, Indigestion, Headache. Easy to take, easy to operate. 25c.

Mistook Toastools for Mushrooms.

HAVERHILL, Sept. 9. — John Morrissey, a wool dyer of Providence, R. I., was found in a semi-conscious condition this afternoon lying in a doorway near Beach street. The ambulance was sent for and Morrissey was removed to the city hospital. After being placed in the ambulance Morrissey told special officer Gile that he had eaten some toastools, which he had mistaken for mushrooms and thought that he was poisoned.

Shoe Thieves Captured.

BEVERLY, Sept. 9. — For some time Woodbury Bros. have been missing shoes from their factory, and have made complaint to Marshal Farnham which culminated in the arrest of two Salem boys yesterday, who are employed in the factory. Patrick Sweeney, aged 19, was arrested at five o'clock by Officer Foley, and William Roman, 17, was arrested by Officer Sweeney.

County Notes.

An attachment has been recorded against Arvilla A. Walden and Myra F. Patten of Lynn, in an action of contract for $500 brought by Burns & Roe of Lynn.

Roderick McNeill of Gloucester, master of the schooner Henri N. Woods, had his leg broken at the picnic of Clan Chisholm, at Fernwood Grove. He was engaged in a tug of war contest.

Among the petitions received at the meeting of the Lynn aldermen Tuesday evening was one asking that the electric fountain on the common be operated on the evenings of Sept. 25 and 26, at the time of the state convention of the Christian Endeavorers there.

William Torrey and William Strangeman of Newburyport swam across Lake Attitash Wednesday, from Merrimac to the Amesbury side. Torrey's time was 50 minutes and Strangeman's was 55 miles. The distance was 11.2 miles.

At Gloucester, Tuesday, Miss Nellie Norwood Rowe, youngest daughter of the late Capt. Joseph Rowe, for many years one of the leaders in the great fishing industry, was married to George Lux, of Hartford, Ct.

LAWRENCE.*He Is Located.

Arthur A. Carver, the Methuen boy who started for school Tuesday morning and instead of going, ran away and occasioned his parents considerable worry by not returning, has been located.

Wednesday afternoon Mr. Carver received a telegram from his brother, Silas Carver, in Rockport, that the boy had arrived there and is all right. No further details were learned. Mr. Carver went to Rockport Thursday and the young wanderer will be returned to his home.

Death Statistics.

There were 21 deaths in this city reported at the office of the board of health this week. Five persons over 60 years died and twelve children under five years of age. There were four deaths caused by cholera infantum, two by diphtheria and one by scarlet fever.

The causes of death were as follows: Heart disease, pneumonia, paralysis of the heart, gastritis, phthisis, dysentery, marasmus (2); general debility, meningitis, catarrhal cystitis, bronchitis, acute gastritis.

To Fix the Rifle Range.

Mayor Jenkins has received a letter from Curtis Guild, Jr., stating that he has detailed Col. James A. Fry to come to this city and make arrangements regarding the rifle range.

Beware Of the Knife.

Mr. Lincoln Nelson, of Marshfield, Mo., writes: "For six years I have been a sufferer from a scrofulous affection of the glands of my neck, and all efforts of physicians in Washington, D. C., Springfield, Ill., and St. Louis failed to reduce the enlargement. After six months' constant treatment here, my physician urged me to submit to a removal of the gland. At this critical moment a friend recommended S.S.S., and laying aside my deep-seated prejudice against all patent medicines, I began its use. Before I had used one bottle the enlargement began to disappear, and now it is entirely gone, though I am not through with my second bottle yet. Had I only used your S.S.S. long ago, I would have escaped years of misery and saved over $150."

This experience is like that of all who suffer with deep-seated blood troubles. The doctors can do no good, and even their resorts to the knife prove either fruitless or fatal. S.S.S. is the only real blood remedy; it gets at the root of the disease and forces it out permanently. Valuable books will be sent free to any address by the Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

A Real Blood Remedy.

is a blood remedy for real blood troubles; it cures the most obstinate cases of Scrofula, Eczema, Cancer, Rheumatism, etc., which other so-called blood remedies fail to touch. Fine Custom Tailoring.

65 Park Street, Andover.

Having been employed for the past eleven years in J. M. Bradley's Tailoring Department, I am prepared to do all kinds of first-class Repairing and Cleaning. I will call for your clothes once in each week three pieces a week; sponge, clean, press, and repair (small repairs) and return them to your residence at $1.25 per month, three pieces a week. Just think of it, your suit of clothes kept in first-class condition for such a small price. It really costs you nothing, because cloth so well taken of will give double wear and look like new all the time. Ladies' garments done also. A postal card addressed to me will insure a call for any work wanted at short notice.

The national conference of Unitarian churches which occurs once in two years will be held in Saratoga, Sept. 20-23, inclusive. The delegation chosen Sunday to represent the local church, includes Rev. and Mrs. Charles Noyes and Hon. M. T. Stevens.

Edward R. Tucker has bought out the right, title and interest of the heirs to the Brierly estate on Prescott Street, which later on may become his dwelling place. In case of his removal the buildings would doubtless be altered and improved.

Motorman Cole of the Lawrence, Lowell and Haverhill street railway, has come into the possession of a "canoe" which he will launch upon the Merrimack river. It is safe to say that but few logs will get below the Cole residence on the occasion of the next frochet.

The annual meeting of the North Andover Improvement Society for the election of officers to hear report of executive committee and the transaction of any other legal business will be held in the vestry of the Congregational church, Monday, Sept. 13, at 8 p. m. A full attendance is desired.

The morning service at the Methodist church Sunday morning was very interesting to an increased audience. Miss Maude Marian Cole of Andover presided over the musical service very acceptably and Mrs. Edmunds, the Misses Keeler, Mr. Duncan of Boston, Eugene Keeler of Concord, N. H., were a valuable acquisition to the choir. Miss Emma Keeler of Brooklyn rendered "Jernsalem" faultlessly. It was a beautiful song beautifully sung. Dr. Thorndyke's sermon was an inspiration, and in thorough keeping with all else.

Mrs. A. P. Fuller has been visiting in Portsmouth and Lynn.

Miss Margaret Baxter was a guest at a recent wedding in Lowell.

A. B. Osgood has been spending the week with relatives in Deerfield, N. H.

The case of Michael Burke for alleged violation of the liquor law was continued until Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Burke being held in the sum of $100, with Frank Davis as surety.

James G. Webber, 45 years old, Frank Webber, 21, Fred Pierce, 16, all of Chelsea, were arrested Saturday morning for larceny of fruit from the orchard of W. H. Hayes. In court at 2 o'clock in the afternoon the men pleaded guilty to the charge of stealing fruit and were fined $5. They paid.

Mrs. A. S. Saunders of Pleasant Street missed a pocketbook containing about $30, about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. She had occasion to use part of its contents about 1 o'clock and placed it on the window sill in the parlor. The screen was found partially removed from the window. The loss was reported to the police.

Messrs. George H. Simonds of Boston and Granville E. Foss, Jr., of Methuen, of the Brightwood manufacturing company in this town, have made arrangements for the purchase of the Bay State Dyeing and Finishing plant operated by Baldwin Sagelhomme of Lawrence. In fact it may be stated that both plants are now being operated by Simonds & Foss. The senior partner stated that the mill is running full time and to its present capacity, and in the future the plant would possibly be extended. Fred Ertingshausen of Lawrence is acting as superintendent of the works.

When the Centre school children assembled Tuesday morning, Miss Ella A. Small missed from among the children one familiar face, that of Miss Charlotte Abbott, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Abbott of the South district. Death came very suddenly at 11.50 o'clock Friday morning from acute kidney trouble, which resulted in brain fever, which continued about a week. The young lady was 11 years of age, bright, interesting and of winning manners. Among the pupils and also among the older people to whom she was known, she had made many warm friendships the breaking of which will be keenly felt. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Charles Noyes of the North church from the late home on Salem street, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. An opportunity was given for associates and schoolmates to review the remains in Ridgewood cemetery, prior to its interment.

A Cure for Bilious Colic.

RESOURCE, BREVEN CO., Ga.—I have been subject to attacks of bilious colic for several years. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the only sure relief. It acts like a charm. One dose of it gives relief when all other remedies fail.—G. D. SHARP. For sale by Arthur Bliss, Andover, C. H. Shattuck, Ballard Vale, Murphy's Drugstore, North Andover.

Miss Edith Clark of Manchester, N. H., is visiting at the home of Miss Jenkins.

The formal opening of the Country Clubhouse is expected to occur Sept. 18, when the work of interior decoration will have been completed.

Rev. E. E. Hale, D. D., who has been the guest of J. H. D. Smith, concluded his visit Saturday. The eminent divine preached at Rye beach, Sunday.

Miss Boyles, recently chosen teacher for the Farnham school, has declined the position, and Tuesday a happy substitute was found in Miss Emily Carleton.

Hollis H. Bailey, Esq., of Cambridge, a native of town, was chosen secretary of the Bayley Bailey families at North Scituate beach, Monday.

The Woman's Alliance of Lawrence were invited to attend the lecture and five o'clock tea given in the Charitable Union rooms yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the local alliance.

The official board have granted a leave of absence for four weeks to Rev. Mr. Johnston. The pastor and wife expect to leave early next week to visit relatives in New Mexico, and will also make the trip to California.

There is a somewhat unpleasant if not uncalculated for tangle in the street department over the refusal of the town to pay certain bills which have been presented for labor. Unable to have their claims in the usual way the laborers have given the bills to a lawyer to collect.

Miss Pearl Chase of Andover street, a graduate of the Lawrence High School in the Class of '97, who intended to enter the Lawrence training school this fall, was debarred on account of being a non-resident, will enter the Salem Normal school the coming term.

Among some old documents recently opened in the Bradstreet house was found an appointment from Governor Lincoln in 1828 conferring upon the late Charles P. Bailey the rank of Lieutenant in the state militia. The appointee was an uncle of Misses Laura and Hannah Bailey who until the proper paper changed to come before them were unaware of the fact that Lieut. Bailey was entitled to the rank denoted by the prefix. He served in the cavalry of the Second Brigade, second division.

"My boy came home from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain," says Mr. E. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros. Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased and in a remarkably short time it healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism, I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Arthur Bliss, Andover, C. H. Shattuck, Ballard Vale, Murphy's Drugstore, North Andover.
